Clears Stand On Powers Of President

Truman Doesn't Hold Unlimited Authority, Govt. Attorney Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's chief attorney in the steel seizure case said today he does not claim that President Truman holds unlimited powers.

Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge asserted, in a statement filed with the Federal District Court here, that if that court had understood such a claim to have been made, he desired to correct it.

Baldridge represented the government last week in arguments before District Judge David A. Pine on the plea of steel companies that the court nullify the presidential seizure of the steel industry.

Pine's ruling could come today, but court attaches said it might not be ready until Wednesday.

Baldridge argued before Judge Pine that Truman had acted properly to protect the public welfare under "inherent powers" held by the chief executive. He said then that the constitution limits the legislative and judicial branches, but not the executive authority.

This argument drew a storm of protests from steel company lawyers—as well as many in Congress later—and Baldridge was subjected to close questioning on the point by Judge Pine.

The House Judiciary committee, meanwhile, met to consider a batch of Republican-sponsored proposals for Truman's impeachment or censure for the seizure action. GOP members pressed for a showdown on the proposals.

Steel firms brought the court case seeking an injunction for return of their property. Truman placed the mills under government control April 8 when CIO steelworkers threatened a nationwide strike.

The issues before Judge Pine were whether the steel companies were right in their contention that Truman lacked legal authority to seize their plants, or whether the President was right in claiming both the power and duty for his action.

Wage Hike Held Up

Government officials awaited Pine's decision before ordering a wage increase for steelworkers into effect over the industry's objections.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, detailed by Truman to take charge of the seized steel mills, notified the companies today that they may apply immediately for a $3-a-ton increase in steel prices.

Such an increase would move the cost of steel up to about $113 a ton.

The $3 increase is the limit fixed by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), which granted the cost boost under the Capehart Amendment to the controls law, an amendment that permits industries to pass on to the consumer increased costs up to and including last July 26.

Industry leaders have said the $3 increase isn't enough to meet the 26-cent-an-hour package pay hike approved by the Wage Stabilization Board for the CIO Steelworkers union.

Steel company men say it may be necessary to increase steel prices by as much as $12 a ton to meet the WSB-endorsed terms.

"Up To You"

Sawyer told the company officials today that accepting the $3

Wilson Presents Views On Steel Argument

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee called in Charles E. Wilson today to tell under oath "the inside story" of why he quit as defense mobilizer in a row over administration handling of the steel dispute.

The committee is conducting its own investigation of the steel case, with a view toward possibly drastic revisions of the Defense Production Act, which forms the basis for price, wage, rent and credit controls and the rationing of materials to industry.

Wilson contends the White House bypassed him "nine ways from Sunday" in handling the dispute, and embarrassed him by a sudden switch in policy.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC) the committee chairman, announced Wilson "undoubtedly will be asked about the details" of that contention, and a variety of other matters.

A Republican committee member, Sen. Schoeppel (Kan), told a reporter he wants Wilson's "sworn views on whether he believes a settlement of the steel strike on the terms now proposed will precipitate new rounds of wage increases, price increases and inflation."

"He lived with this problem for weeks," Schoeppel said, "and can give us valuable counsel as to whether the wage-price control program has been so wrecked that the proposed extension of wage

Ground Broken For New Marion YMCA

Several hundred Marionites attended the groundbreaking ceremony for Marion's new $700,000 YMCA building on E. Church St. at 4 p.m. Monday.

Workmen began today clearing the site in preparation for the excavation which is scheduled to begin shortly.

Houses on the site, which stretches from the Postoffice on the west to High St. on the east, have already been razed and trees were pulled down by a bulldozer last week.

General contractor for the building is the Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine, builders of Marion's new high school building.

The dual nature of the new YMCA building, designed for both men and women and boys and girls, was stressed in a talk by Mrs. Charles Isaly, whose husband was one of the leaders in early YMCA activities in Marion. The new building is one of the few YMCA with equal facilities for both sexes.

Kette Speaks

Also speaking was A. W. Kette, president of the YMCA board of directors, who thanked the citizens of the city and county for their help and cooperation in making the new YMCA a reality. He said it would be impossible to thank everybody individually, but he wanted everyone to know that their contributions were greatly appreciated Funds for the new building were contributed by individuals, organizations and businesses in a campaign in the summer of 1950.

The speakers were introduced by Arthur Haas, general secretary of the Marion Y, who also introduced the four persons turning the first shovels of earth.

They were Mr. Kette, representing the men; Mrs. Elmer Schoenlaub, whose husband also was active in early YMCA work, representing the women; Larry Henry, representing the boys; and Judy Schill, representing the girls.

The benediction was given by the Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. The invocation was given by the Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig, pastor of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Senators Slash Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee has whacked an even billion dollars off the $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill and a Republican leader predicted today a strong floor move would be made almost to double this cut.

The foreign relations group voted 9-3 late Monday to reduce the bill to $6,900,000,000—a 12.66 per cent slash to be distributed evenly among all items in the measure.

Treasury Sets Change In Bond Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury today revamped its entire multi-billion-dollar savings bond program, raising interest rates all along the line.

Sale of two of the current series of savings bonds—F and G bonds—will be discontinued effective Thursday. But three new types of bonds will be offered.

The familiar series "E" defense bonds—the type held by most individuals—will be continued.

But interest rates for the full period of the bond will be raised from 2.9 per cent to 3 per cent.

And buyers will get a much bigger increase in interest rates over the first few years they hold the bond.

The changes will not affect "E" bonds already sold unless the bondholder wants to keep his bond after it matures. In that case, he will get the new interest rate of 3 per cent.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said the many changes are designed to improve the bond program "in keeping with the times"—apparently a reference to increased commercial interest rates.

Marion Area Youths Flee Reformatory

LANCASTER (AP) — Four youths escaped from Boys Industrial School Tuesday night, officials said. They were identified as LeRoy Mabray, 17, of Rushsylvania; Jake Floyd, 18, of Cincinnati; Harold Dyer, 17, of Carey, and Garland Rickendoller, 17, of Cardington.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Reid F. Murray (R-Wisc) died early today in Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was 64. He was serving his seventh term in the House as a representative of Wisconsin's Seventh District.

Taft To Speak At Courthouse Here Friday

Public Address Scheduled at 1:30 From West Steps

Senator Robert E. Taft will make his bid for the presidential nomination to Marionites Friday.

"Mr. Republican" will make a public address at 1:30 p.m. from the west door of the courthouse. Marion is one stop on the Senator's tour of Ohio which began last Monday in Youngstown.

District convention candidates pledged to Sen. Taft on the primary ballot will be introduced at the courthouse rally. They are Marion E. Hinklin, Marion County treasurer, and Edwin S. Naus of Upper Sandusky. Willis J. Hakes of Fostoria and Gar Smith of Mt. Gilead are alternates.

Taft will arrive here from Mansfield where he is scheduled for a speaking engagement. From Marion he will go to Bowling Green for a public rally.

His appearance here is being sponsored by the Marion County Republican Committee. Ralph E. Carhart, secretary of the Marion County Republican Executive Committee, is in charge of arrangements.

In case of bad weather, Taft will speak in the courtroom at the courthouse.

Before his address, a private dinner of the GOP party heads of the Eighth Congressional district will be held in his honor.

U.N. Awaits Red Answer On Truce Offer

MUNSAN, Korea—(AP)—Korean truce talks were in complete recess today for the first time in time months. The United Nations Command waited for Communist reaction to a secret Allied proposal for an armistice.

It is up to the Communists to set the date of the next meeting.

Presumably the Reds will make no move until a decision has been reached in Peiping and Pyongyang, and possibly in Moscow, on what to do about the plan the Allies delivered Monday.

The proposal was described officially only as "an over-all solution for the remaining unresolved issues standing in the way of a military armistice."

That means it wrapped up in one package the dispute over how to exchange prisoners of war, the Red demand for the right to rebuild their war-wrecked military airfields, and Communist nomination of Russia as a truce supervisor.

There was widespread belief that the proposal centered on prisoner exchange.

Allied Plane Is Fired On In Germany

2 Soviet Jets Attack French Airliner; 2 Passengers Wounded

BERLIN (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters fired on an Air France liner in the Russian zone of Germany today, wounding two German passengers and leaving 89 bullet holes in the plane's fuselage.

The plane landed safely at Tempelhof Airbase.

The Air France office in Frankfurt identified the wounded as Mrs. Irmgard Nebel, Frankfurt, hit in the abdomen, and Walter Kurth, Bad Homburg, wounded in the arm and thigh. They were taken to hospitals.

Allied officials in Bonn at once temporarily canceled all flights of Allied civil aircraft into Berlin.

After a few hours, however, Pan American and British Airways resumed their fights. Only Air France canceled all flights until Wednesday.

The pilot of the attacked plane said the two jet fighters made four "passes" at his ship as he was flying precisely in the center of the air corridor reserved for western traffic to Berlin over the Soviet Zone. The fighters unloaded bursts of machinegun and cannon fire, he said.

The co-pilot and steward were nicked by bullets and their clothing was torn, but their injuries were only superficial.

Mrs. Nebel, the most seriously wounded, underwent an operation and physicians removed fragments of 20-millimeter ammunition from her abdomen.

"Complete Surprise"

"The attack was a complete surprise," said the pilot, "but there was no panic among the passengers.

The U. S. High Commission said an official protest also had been made to the Russians at the four-

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy arranged today for a formal inquiry into the mid-Atlantic sinking of the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson with an apparent loss of 174 lives. It was one of the worst peacetime disasters in American naval history.

Meanwhile, the 27,100-ton aircraft carrier WASP, damaged in the Saturday night collision that sent the Hobson to the bottom, steamed slowly homeward. She carried 61 of the minesweeper's survivors, some of them injured seriously.

Traveling between eight to ten knots, the carrier was expected to reach Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs on Friday or Saturday.

Another Taft-Eisenhower Duel On

Massachusetts Voters Elect Delegates Today

By The Associated Press

Massachusetts voters, propelled by a brisk campaign, ran between chill raindrops today to write in their preference for president and elect delegates to help nominate candidates for the job.

The weather forecast—temperatures in the 40's with occasional drizzles — was not expected to keep people away from the polls. About three times as many as the 1948 figure of 124,000 were looked for. The reasons:

1. It was another duel for Republican presidential delegates and popular support between Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

2. Pre-election campaigning was hot right down to the wire. Some Eisenhower backers predicted he would win all 28 GOP delegate posts being filled, while others expected it would be 20 to 24. Taft forces were optimistic but more cautious.

3. It was Massachusetts' first preferential voting, permitting the electorate to write down—no names are printed on this ballot—whom they prefer as president.

Excitement among Republicans, particularly over how Taft and Eisenhower are faring in their front-running race for delegate strength, was in direct contrast to relatively quiet doings on the Democratic side.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee has a slate of pledged candidates in one district opposing the Democratic organization candidates. The party is electing 72 delegates with 36 convention votes.

Ten of Massachusetts' 38 GOP delegates already have been chosen—two each for Taft and Eisenhower and six uninstructed. If Eisenhower's forces are right in predicting "a clear cut victory" for him, the general could pull

Sen. Williams Uncovers New Tax Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Williams (R-Del) told the Senate today three wealthy citizens have been permitted to charge off their income taxes 90 per cent of "loans" made to Democratic committees in the years 1940 through 1948.

Williams named the three as Marshall Field of Chicago, Richard J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N.C., and David A. Schulte of New York.

The Delaware senator, whose charges helped spur the congressional investigation of Internal Revenue Bureau scandals, displayed what he said were copies of bureau letters authorizing the three to charge off as non-business debts, the major share of loans he said totaled $310,000 from Reynolds, $50,000 from Field and $50,000 from Schulte.

Traffic Is Delayed By Railroad Mishap

Traffic was delayed on N. Main St. at noon today when a New York Central train pulled out the draw bar on a boxcar. The freight train had become stalled making the grade to the east and two engines were pulling the cars when the mishap occurred.

Police operated the crossing gates manually while the train was being attached to the engines again. The accident pulled out one end of the boxcar but no cars were derailed.

Airliner, 50 Aboard, Is Overdue

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—A Pan-American strato-cruiser with 50 persons aboard was overdue here today and was reported missing over Brazilian jungle territory.

The 1½ million dollar Boeing plane, a luxury ship flying the El Presidente route from Rio De Janeiro to New York, was carrying 41 passengers and a crew of nine, Pan American Airways reported.

The strato-cruiser is the first of that type to be reported missing.

It left Rio at 11:07 p.m. (9:07 p.m. EST) Monday.

It was due here at 9 a.m. EST today. Pan American said its last radio communication was with Barreiros, Brazil, at 1:15 a.m. EST.

Rejected 7 to 2 By City Council

Marion To Stay On Standard Time This Summer

There'll be no daylight savings time in Marion this summer.

In a regular session at city hall last night, City Council killed a measure which would have set the clock ahead one hour beginning Sunday. The score—seven against and only two in favor.

Other action taken by council:

Lights and other equipment connected with the Lincoln Park baseball diamond were purchased from the Marion Baseball Company for $3,000.

Two ordinances were passed directing the safety-service director to contract for roentgenologists (X-ray experts) and personnel to interpret electrocardiograms at City Hospital.

Ohio Edison Co. was authorized to install a street light at the end of Glad St. south of Browne Ave.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and estimates for the construction of a sanitary and storm water sewer starting at Barks Ave and extending east to Westwood Dr.

Two Vote For Fast Time

Only Don Quaintance, councilman of the Fifth Ward, and Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, voted in favor of daylight savings time.

Comments in opposition to the time ordinance were many and varied.

George Stafford, councilman-at-large, said, "I don't think we can have the county on one time and the city on another. The town clock (in the courthouse) would show one time and our watches another."

Herman Rinehart, Third Ward councilman said, "For every one person for, I've had 150 who asked me to vote against the ordinance."

Louis Conkle, Fourth Ward councilman, said, "I brought the question up. From my own personal viewpoint, I'm for it. But I don't believe there is sufficient support to justify a change."

Four representatives of Marion County Granges also voiced disapproval. They asked council not to pass it because they said daylight time worked a hardship on the farmers.

Speaking in favor of daylight time, Councilman Fralich said, "I kept my own tabulation of telephone calls in the Sixth Ward. I got 29 for and 17 against."

Final action on the fast time ordinance was taken after a motion to suspend the rules and give the ordinance its second and third readings passed. The first reading was given at a special meeting a week ago. At that time Council delayed decision on fast time for this summer but instructed the solicitor to prepare legislation to put the question before the voters in November for their decision on fast time next summer.

Streets Discussed

The condition of Marion streets, a wage hike for city employes, and procedure for filing claims against the city came up for discussion.

A claim against the city for a broken spring as a result of a hole in a street brought on dis-

Congressman Recalls Crossing of Rapido

New Assignment Revives Criticism of Gen. Clark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Matthew Ridgway's appointment to succeed Gen. Dwight Eisenhower drew mostly applause today, but Gen. Mark Clark, who gets Ridgway's old command, faced criticism in Congress.

In the Pentagon, the top-level reassignments — Ridgway from Far East commander to head of Allied forces in Europe, and Clark from chief of Army field forces to Far East commander — were viewed by some officials as:

1. Results of a decision by President Truman to side with Gen. Omar Bradley instead of Eisenhower in choosing the new commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

2. Rewards to both Ridgway and Clark for past jobs well done.

The criticism of Clark came from Sen. Long (D-La), a member of the armed services committee. He told a reporter he wants to review previous congressional investigations of Clark's World War II record and may ask for a new inquiry.

Clark's crossing of the Rapido River during the Italian campaign has been under previous

The Sour Mr. Kaufman

FOR THREE YEARS now George S. Kaufman has been dispensing some painfully honest and hopelessly unusable advice on "This Is Show Business," a program which he occasionally refers to as "This Ain't Show Business." There hasn't been such a malicious and altogether refreshing sourpuss around since—well since forever—and I have a little list here of Mr. Kaufman's vinegary little essays I'd like to pass along.

There was the acrobat who asked him how to break into show business in New York. "Take any job you can get — down in Greenwich Village in some little cellar at any little price—because people love to discover talent. Get in as deep a cellar as you can down there. People looking for talent love to walk up and down stairs. If they find you're three flights down, they'll think you're so much better." That's a perfect example of Mr. K.'s special attitude toward life — astringent, slightly contemptuous and containing more than a germ of truth.

THEN THERE was the non-singing actor in "The King and I" who wanted to sing. "Why," said Mr. Kaufman gleefully, "don't you some night just break out and sing? Who can stop you? You're stronger than Gertrude Lawrence. Just do it. For good measure, sing an Irving Berlin tune and get me a closeup of Mr. Rodgers's face at the time."

"A lot of people," exclaimed Clifton Fadiman, the emcee, "have succeeded by not listening to Mr. Kaufman."

Mr. Kaufman's opinion even of television, which foots his bills, is low. When asked what he'd like to see on TV, he replied, "I like to see the fights. I would like to have fights on all the time to the exclusion of everything else except possibly this program."

"This Is Show Business" is theoretically in the business of discussing show peoples' problems, a slender and rather tawdry device for getting people to sing, dance or crack jokes after which the panel delves into the personal frustrations of the actors. Well, it's a fairly good excuse to get Mr. Kaufman in front of the cameras and he makes the most of it. One night Lewis and Van, a dance team, came on the show, and complained that they had worked together for eight years now and were bored to death with each other. What should they do?

"I THINK you have a simple case of success poisoning. You've been working together eight years and you've been eating eight years and you're kind of forgetting those days when you were munching on the real estate section of the Sunday paper. Quit for awhile, be out of jobs and look into Lindy's window—and you'll be very glad to meet each other again." Mr. K., in short, can be pretty rough.

He has a low opinion of a number of things besides actors. Songs for example. Asked his favorite song, he replied: "Well, frankly, Mr. Fadiman, I don't think there's a song in the world that I can't do without if I really push myself to it." On another occasion, he remarked that he had always had a little trouble hearing the words of lyrics. "I haven't heard them for something like forty-five years. This is just occupational deafness of some kind." A fortunate disease and one which I wish I suffered from, too.

Kaufman on the subject of television: "I stayed home last night and watched Sid Caesar have a toothache and three boxers get knocked out in the first round and then a fellow was murdered in a playlet and I got the feeling that I was not so badly off at all because I didn't have those things. I have a very violent television set."

KAUFMAN ON HIS relatives: "One cousin goes into various professions. For example, he goes into the insurance business, insures me, and then goes out of the insurance business. That ends that. Another one I have helped—he digs oil wells all over Texas—not oil, just wells. And he has very hard luck. I think he dug once right in the office of the Standard Oil Co. and he couldn't find any."

Kaufman on autograph hounds: "You were talking about those sweet little children that wait outside stage doors to ask performers for their signatures—those cute little kiddies—I would like to knock their heads together until they ring like a Chinese gong."

There's enough sweetness and light on TV. Mr. Kaufman is a novelty.

500 Attend Crawford Tree Farm Event

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Dedication of the Milton Harman farm, five miles southwest of here, as an Ohio Tree Farm took place Friday in a ceremony attended by 500, including about 350 students from Crawford County rural high schools.

Charles Haas, Columbus, northeastern Ohio District suppervisor of county agriculture agents, presented a plaque, designating the 90-acre wooded plot as one of three tree farms in the county, to Mr. and Mrs. Harman. Haas substituted for R. R. Paton of the Ohio Forestry Association.

A timber - estimating contest was conducted by Forest Dean, extension forester of Ohio State University, with participants attempting to determine the number of board feet of lumber in a designated tree. Winners were Jesse Steinhilber and Herbert Stuckman, both of near Mt. Zion.

Harman, who is superintendent of Mt. Zion school, and a former Crawford County superintendent of schools, told of his forest conservation practices.

Demonstrations on felling trees and sawing timber for firewood were given by the Stuckman Brothers sawmill of Mt. Zion, Ned Baird of Sulphur Springs, and A. J. Bittikofer Co. of Bucyrus.

A tour of the farm was conducted by Fred Ernst, county game warden, John Baker, local federal soil conservationist, and County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller.

The Crawford Nursery, operated by the Stuckman brothers and located near the Harman farm, also was visited by the group.

Other tree farms in the county are owned by Dr. Paul B. Sears native Bucyrian and nationally-known authority on soil conservation, and Florin Harrer. The Sears woods is located at Mt. Zion and the Harrer woods is near New Washington.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Lillian's attempt to smile at my gibing was one of the saddest efforts in that direction I ever have seen, and I was glad I had an excuse to stop looking at her.

"Prepare to shiver," I told her. "I'm going to bring on the cold water treatment."

I went into the bathroom and brought back a towel rung out of cold water, and a dry one. I sponged her face and hands, and handed the dry towel to her.

"I'd advise not drying your face or hands at once," I said. "And now I'll get busy with the tray."

"Wait . . . wait just a minute," she pleaded. "While I've been asleep, have you heard anything from Carlotta?"

"Not a thing," I told her, "but I'm warning you, if she telephones before you've finished your snack, I'll not spill a word until you've eaten what I bring you, and have drunk at least three cups of hot tea."

I whisked out of the room before she could answer me, and hurried to the living room. Dicky was ranging up and down the room, casting his eye occasionally on the tea kettle.

"It's almost on the boil," he said. "D'ye suppose you could put enough in the pot, so I could have a couple of glasses of iced tea?"

"I'll use the big pot," I told him indulgently, for I always have humored his requests for iced tea instead of the hot beverage. "Wouldn't you like a snack to go with the tea?"

"They've been made and wrapped since early this morning," I told him a bit smugly. "Tiny anchovy and cottage cheese sandwiches with cut olives and lemon juice, also deviled ham and mashed yolks of hard-boiled eggs with seasonings."

"My favorites!" my husband exclaimed. "Also my favorite wife. D'ye know, I think I'm going to sell off all the rest of the harem, and just keep you."

"Oh—oh!" I murmured. You are so kind."

"Yes," he said, with a cocky grin. "They call me the Kind One, with capitals. Where are the sandwiches? May I get them?"

"If you'll give me your solemn Boy Scout word not to dig into them until I have fixed Lillian's tray," I told him.

"You mean Lil's—and yours," he retorted. "But I'm a forgiving soul. Cross my heart, Scout honor, I won't touch them."

"They're in the pintsize refrigerator," I said. "And I'll fix the tea while you get them."

"Lil must feel better," Dicky said when he had brought the sandwiches and I was arranging them upon the tray, "if you expect her to eat half of those. Or else you put the fear of the Lord into her."

"I think your second hypothesis is the correct one," I told him with a rueful smile. "Of course, after her long sleep, she wasn't as—ravaged—as she was after she left Father's whipping post. But she asked frantically if Carlotta had telephoned, and I told her no, but also made it clear that if Carlotta should send a message, I would not relay it until she had eaten the snack and drunk several cups of tea."

"Wow! That was telling her," Dicky commented. "Here! Give me that tray! I'll double for a mouse while I carry it down the corridor — no, not in nibbling, smarty," as I cocked skeptical eyebrows at him—"but in silence. And if you need any help in managing Lil, send me an SOS and I'll come a-running."

Japanese Incentive Plan

IT TAKES away nothing from Japan's new sovereignty to admit that the idea is difficult for most Americans to grasp.

The difference between U.S. soldiers in Japan as occupation troops and as "guests" of the government headed by Emperor Hirohito is elusive; the controlling fact is that the troops are in Japan and will stay there until the Japanese are able to defend themselves.

This might be described as a Japanese incentive plan—not only because the Japanese will want to speed the departure of U.S. troops but because of the powerful menace which has developed in Red China.

The government in Peiping has a treaty with the government in Moscow which pledges both parties to take "all measures at their disposal" against "Japan and any other state which directly or indirectly would unite with Japan in acts of aggression."

The U.N. action in Korea constitutes aggression, according to the Communist line. The United States is part of that action. Japan, which regards Russia as a traditional enemy and once regarded China as a target for conquest, has every conceivable reason to want to be strong enough to protect itself against the eventuality of attack.

It has every conceivable reason to value the assistance of the United States in the meantime.

Ridgway to Paris

SELECTION of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway to replace Gen. Eisenhower as supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe gives Gen. Mark W. Clark a chance to step into Ridgway's vacated post in Japan.

But whereas Ridgway is stepping into a job in no way diminished by events, Gen. Clark's assignment in Tokyo has been limited by the Japanese peace treaty. He will be commander of U.S. occupation forces in Japan, instead of chief of Allied occupation of that country. It is unlikely that he will be referred to as American pro-consul in the Far East, the unofficial designation that seemed to fit Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Ridgway, himself, never seemed to fit that title.

Gen. Alfred Gruenther, who had been considered as Eisenhower's successor, will stay in his present position of chief of staff in Paris. In the event Ridgway is called to higher duty, Gruenther would be a logical successor.

Eisenhower now is free to come home to run for the Republican presidential nomination. MacArthur also has been considered for the same distinction. In due time, Ridgway also may have political aspirations. Clark has not been mentioned in a political connection so far, but he is still young and circumstances have placed him in one of the places where opportunity strikes in an era of politics which emphasizes the "availability" of military men.

Practice for Destruction

THE mid-Atlantic collision between the aircraft carrier Wasp and the minesweeper Hobson, following closely the turret explosion aboard the heavy cruiser St. Paul a few days before, will divert some of the attention given to the U.S. Air Force, whose "accidents" are routine.

The attention is not necessarily critical. It is obvious from the nature of all practice for destruction that hazards must be commensurate with the power of the weapons used. Heavy bombers, jet pursuit planes and floating air bases—symbolic of machine-waged war—are the modern equivalent of the first muskets placed in the hands of land troops. The risk of self-inflicted injury was not greatly less than the risk of injury by an enemy until years had passed.

A special sorrow weighs on the survivors of men killed in military accidents. But military accidents are bound to happen. They are the modern counterpart of the death by disease which once claimed a large percentage of all men in military service.

Anyone Surprised?

ASIDE from the resumption of Japan's sovereignty, the high point in U.S. diplomacy last week was the belated decision of the government of Iran to accept an indeterminate number of American dollars.

This could not have happened without a vast deal of persuasion on the part of the State Department. The persuasion began last winter when Premier Mossadegh was lionized in Washington and has been going on ever since. There has been a background of cloaks, daggers, Red riots and big business, with special emphasis on British big business.

Premier Mosadegh, as all newspaper readers know by this time, is a cagey character; that is intended as a compliment. He has been presiding over a small country in chaos without losing that sure touch which distinguishes the men from the boys in the great game of diplomacy.

By rough count, his touch is going to cost Iran's share in a $396,250,000 fund for military aid shared with Greece and Turkey; about $24 million under Point Four and whatever other prerequisites will fall due to a deserving republic intent on resisting the Communist conspiracy.

Issue of a Century

By David Lawrence

Grave Constitutional Question Faces Court

WASHINGTON

THE SUPREME COURT of the United States will be asked this week to take under consideration the gravest constitutional question that has arisen in American history since the days before the Civil War.

The issue of a century concerns the right of a citizen not "to be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.' Those are the exact words of the Constitution. The issue concerns also the alleged right of the President to declare an "emergency" and, without permitting any review by the courts as to whether such an emergency exists, to arrest any citizen, and execute such a citizen without a trial by jury.

It concerns many other fundamental rights and mostly whether the President is the "chief of state" as the memorandum formally filed by the Department of Justice claims he is. That memorandum asserts flatly that the President is above the courts and the Congress and that he is not limited in his powers as are the judicial and legislative branches of the government. Mr. Truman has tried, through a letter published Sunday night, to narrow somewhat what his attorney said in court so as to concede that his powers are limited. But what counts is the argument in court—not the White House publicity designed to allay the people's fears.

THE NATION as a whole has seemed unaware of the epoch-making crisis in law which has arisen, but lawyers and those who are familiar with constitutional principles know that the very character of the American republic and its future as a government based on a written Constitution are at stake.

Over the week end the two contending sides had prepared for a decision in the U.S. District Court by Judge David A. Pine, who was expected by Tuesday to take the first step—a denial of the right of the Secretary of Commerce to seize or operate the steel plants. This inference was generally drawn from the many questions asked by the juoge.

But the attorneys for the government and the attorneys for the steel companies had planned the second step no matter which way the case was decided—a docketing of the case with the Circuit Court of Appeals and then a direct petition to the Supreme Court of the United States which is permissible in such constitutional cases.

SO, AS IT WAS planned, if the Department of Justice lost the case, a petition would be filed at once with the Circuit Court of Appeals here not to return the steel plants but to order a stay or temporary restraint against the executing of the lower court's order, thus maintaining the "status quo" until the Supreme Court could hear the case.

It was being assumed in Washington that by "status quo" was meant an agreement in behalf of the Secretary of Commerce not to pay any increased wages or otherwise disturb the collective-bargaining situation that existed before government seizure.

Likewise, if the steel companies lost, they planned to follow the same route so as to get the case before the Supreme Court at once.

It could happen, of course, that the steel companies and the unions might reach a settlement of their dispute, and that the government would concur and turn back the plants at once and the issue would become "moot" and the Supreme Court would not feel obligated to pass on the constitutional questions at all.

But no matter what the legal route may be, the case has disturbed, as nothing else in decades of history, the feeling of security that America operates under a written Constitution and that the executive, legislative and judicial branches are limited by specific powers delegated by the people under that Constitution.

EXAMINATION of the stenographic transcript of the argument made by Holmes Baldrige, assistant attorney general, reveals many startling sentences never before heard in free America. The argument was carefully prepared in advance by the Department of Justice and represents an evolution of "New Deal" and "Fair Deal" concept of executive authority which is not limited by the courts. It is more sensational than Mr. Roosevelt's bold plan of 1937 to "pack" the Supreme Court with justices of his own choosing who agreed with his philosophy of constitutionalism.

"Our position," said Mr. Baldridge, "is that there is no power in the courts to restrain the President and, as I say, the secretary of commerce is the alter ego of the President and is not subject to injunctive order of the court. . . .

"But I do want to point out that there are two limitations on the President's power. One is the ballot box and the other is impeachment."

There are occasions, of course, when the opportunity to go to the ballot box in a presidential term may be as much as three or even nearly four years away. So impeachment is the only practical recourse left in the view of the Truman administration itself.

ANOTHER NOVEL claim was set forth in the argument of the assistant attorney general when Judge Pine asked Mr. Baldridge this question:

"So when the sovereign people adopted the Constitution, it enumerated the powers set up in the Constitution but limited the power of the Congress and limited the power of the judiciary but it did not limit the powers of the executive? Is that what you say?"

Mr. Baldridge then replied:

"That is the way we read Article II of the Constitution."

"I see," rejoined Judge Pine. "I have never heard that view expressed in any authoritative opinion of any court."

That's why Judge Pine's decision is vital to the future of the American republic, but even more vital is what the Supreme Court—the final word, supposedly—has to say. For the Truman administration's counsel hinted that the executive had the right even to ignore the Supreme Court and to refuse to obey its mandate.

Impeachment proceedings do seem to be the only way now to restore confidence in the American people — for any President who permits such an argument to be made is guilty of attempted usurpation. It raises concretely the question of his fidelity to the Constitution he swore to uphold. It openly invites impeachment proceedings which can be brought by the House of Representatives by a majority vote. Removal can be effected by two-thirds of the Senate as provided in the Constitution.

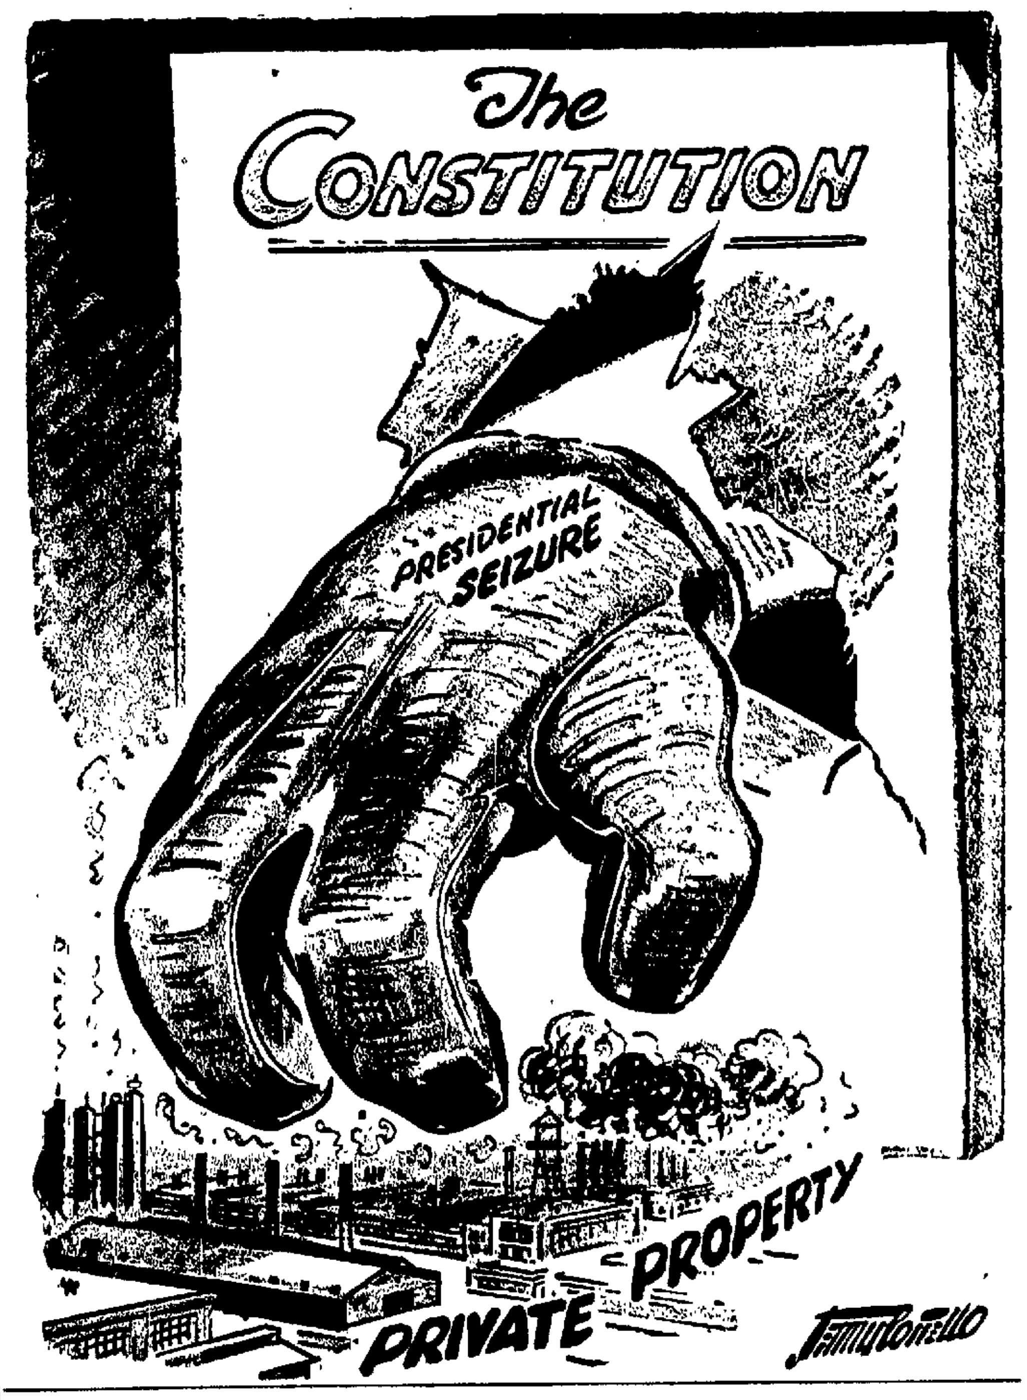
Iron-Fisted Breach



Pro-American Pictures

By George E. Sokolsky

AN EXCELLENT way to discourage motion picture producers from making pro-American pictures which will be good entertainment and stir the emotions of the audience on a great theme is to kill one such picture of high quality. Then the accountants and managers of the producing companies will say that there is no money in pro-American pictures. They have no box-office appeal. Nobody will make another.

I have observed the slaughter-house job that is being done to Leo McCarey's magnificent picture, "My Son John." Were it a leg-show affair, it would have been advertised with all the rawness and raciness of a bacchanalian festival, featuring the God-given or man-made pulchritude of young womanhood.

As the star of this picture, however, is Helen Hayes, America's greatest actress, who plays the mother of three full-grown men, two of whom are in the army, and one in the State Department betraying his country, no such "cheese-cake" advertising is possible, and therefore what has been done appears to me to look like nothing to attract attention to its grandeur. Someone missed the point of it altogether and the picture is missing box-office attractiveness.

FURTHERMORE, the left-wing and so-called liberal reviewers condemned the picture, in spite of direction by Leo McCarey, who made "The Bells Of St. Mary's" and "Going My Way,' the starring of Helen Hayes, Van Heflin and Robert Walker, among the best actors in this country. It is a timely picture, strong in human appeal, powerful in evoking emotions — but it is pro-American.

It seems to be a crime to be pro-American. It used to be, during World War II particularly, that pro-American subjects in the movies, on radio, and even in magazines were taboo. What was desired most was an eternal yapping about One World and about our wonderful ally, Soviet Russia. That was called cooperating with our ally, who is now our enemy.

No complaints were made that the plethora of pro-Russian pictures, straight propaganda, arranged by motion picture companies and the OWI, were "message pictures." If the motion picture art is ever to grow up, so that it can compete with television, it will have to produce pictures that are, at least, slightly above the Westerns and the boy-meets-girl themes which in the old days filled the tills Too much is happening in the world today for that sort of drivel to appeal to adults.

IF MOTION Pictures then are to be made only for teen-agers, parents are entitled to know that the product is a decent, patriotic one and not the result of slick writers sneaking poisonous phrases into silly scenes. It is interesting that when a picture of the stature of "My Son John" appears, the advertising and publicity personnel worry lest it be labelled anti-Communist, or anti-spy. They prefer to have such a writer as myself refer to it as fine entertainment, which it is, omitting, however, references to its theme.

The question does arise, is entertainment all that we require of a picture or is it, like the theatre, to add something to one's knowledge and wisdom? When one sees the outstanding success, on the live stage, of "Don Juan In Hell," with Charles Laughton, Charles Boyer, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Agnes Moorehead, or the amazing success of "Anthony and Cleopatra" and "Caesar and Cleopatra," in which Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh starred, it is possible to say that there is an adult theatre-going audience in this country. After all, William Shakespeare and George Bernard Shaw still remain the best box-office in the theatre.

WHY NOT in the movies? Why is it that management and critics insist that a herring be thrown to teen-agers and when an outstanding picture is produced that feeds the intellect as well as the eye, a combination develops to kill it so that others of its kind will not be made?

Perhaps the fact that "Quo Vadis" got no Oscars points the way. This remarkable picture preaches a sermon on one of the most noble tales in human experience — the conquest of the rotting Roman Empire by the word of God.

"My Son John" is a motion picture to which every American parent can take his children, that they may learn to love and serve American.

Dear Nephew: You wrote something the other day that made your aunt and me remember the time you fell out of your high chair on your head. You wondered why people could not see one another's point of view when they argued.

Listen to me, you flat-head, while I tell you the purpose of argument to change another person's opinion. That would be as silly as to be on a debating team and tear up your notes because you had been converted. Argument is exposition, first, last and always.

Its sole purpose is to assert yourself, right or wrong—and of course you are always right. The other fellow is always wrong, unless it happens that you are one of the soft-headed people born with a facility for seeing double, as you expressed it in your fatuous remarks.

I gather from my knowledge of your quaint behavior in recent years that you are one of these soft heads. I extend to you my deepest sympathy, nephew, because you came by this tendency honestly.

Your late father was so anxious to be fair in all things that he always was respecting the other fellow's point of view. It was also your grandfather's practice to behave in this peculiar manner. I clearly recall that he used to be able to hold forth stridently on the merits of prohibition while downing workmanlike quantities of the demon rum, rest his soul.

But for the luvva Mike don't go daisy-hunting for converts to sweet reasonableness because you won't find any worth picking. And by no means fall into the error of believing that if you make a sound argument you will be able to convert the members of the opposition. They are not convertible. They are hard tops.

They may admit there is something in what you say, but they will hasten to point out there is a darned sight more in what they say if you will open your fat head to reason. In the meantime, on the sound premise that you won't open it, they intend to beat it in with blunt instruments.

As I think back over all the arguments I have had in a misspent life, I cannot recall a single conversion -of me or anyone else. That never was the idea. The idea always was to lay down such a barrage that the opposition could not advance. The air was full of flying statistics, innuendoes, poisoned darts and personalities. As time went on and my native aptitude for being able to fire equally well from either side of the line of battle developed, I became an expert at laying down these barrages—as you should know. But I never made any friends or converts. Perhaps the proudest claim I can make is that I made only enemies who were well worth making because they were skunks.

So let us have no more half-baked writings about a happy day to come when the wolves will cuddle up cosily in the green pastures of agreement beside the still waters of pure reason. It won't happen.

Regards to the family.

Market Report

There has been quite a break in the stock market. It may have been due to a rumor Washington is going to seize the stockholders and split them ten for one. T. Hathaway Poots, our favorite market expert, has a novel theory. He says the market is weak through sheer fear President Truman will resume expressing his own economic theories. "It used to be a question whether you were buying for a quick turnover or the long pull," says Mr. Poots. "Now it is whether you are buying for the short light haze or the long deep fog."

"What about the blue chips?" we asked.

"I hear Washington is about to create a five-man board to recolor all chips, making blue applicable only to poker chips, bingo cards and pinball marbles," he replied with a shake of his head, and quoting a verse, "The trend is red, the stock is blue; everything's snafu and so are you."

We told Mr. Poots about our recent startling experience. We were watching a ticker the other day and were positive it played a recording of "Cry" and then ticked off the words "Seizures opened strong and held well, aided by indications of strong government support for half-nelsons, hammerlocks and the abolition of all penalties for unnecessary roughness."

"Could be," said Mr. Poots. "I have a letter from an investor who says he bought a stock and found it had in small type the words 'Not good unless punched by H. S. Truman.' Another fellow complains that he looked over his stock certificate in a major industry and found on the back 'While we believe what it says on this certificate, nothing therein contained is to be construed as protecting you from the Democrats'."

"We just bought fifty shares of stock but the corporation instead of sending a certificate sent us a photostatic copy of the scene of the crime, the autopsy and the spot where the body was found," we told Mr. Poots.

"What? No autographed photo of Nathan Feinsinger, Charlie Sawyer, or Philip Murray?" he asked.

"No. Just a picture of the White House and the question 'Are you better off than you were when you were better off?'" we replied.

At this point a ticker which had been in operation beside us suddenly vanished.

"Seized?" we asked.

"No," said Mr. Poots, "It probably gave itself up."

Joe DiMaggio is getting more at home each day on video, but still grips the bat. . . . Are we facing an era in American industrial history when a steel mill operator will have to be a registered Democrat? . . . And when a corporation's financial position may be dependent on "the early vote"? . . . Four Americans who had climbed from the bottom to the top in American business were honored with Horatio Alger awards the other day. . . . We wonder that they had stamina enough to show up, considering the beating business has to take these days. . . . Shudda Haddum missed Lively Girl at $33.70. . . . "That mornin' the wife goes wild and chases me out of the house like crazy," he weeps. "Tryin' to board a bus I get shut out by a dame who busts past me just as the door is shut. On the train to the track I get a seat beside a woman who has the jumps so bad she keeps poppin' all over the seat so I can't do my handicappin'. And I don't get no hunch on Lively Girl!"

Maybe that "S" in Harry S. Truman stands for "Seizure."

Golden Sauce Really Compliments Asparagus

A sauce should do honor to the vegetables it dresses. Those succulent stalks of new asparagus now appearing in gardens and in vegetable bins deserve an extra-special sauce—this golden sauce, for example. An easy version of Hollandaise, it makes good use of left-over egg yolks.

GOLDEN SAUCE

3 egg yolks
½ cup butter or margarine (1 stick)
2 T lemon juice
¼ t salt
Paprika

In a small sauce pan beat together egg yolks and softened margarine. Beat in lemon juice, salt and a dash of paprika. Stirring constantly, cook over very low heat until sauce just thickens. Remove from heat at once and pour over hot cooked asparagus. Makes about ¾ cup.

COOKED ASPARAGUS

3 lbs fresh asparagus or 1 pkg. frozen
2 t salt
1 cup boiling water

Wash asparagus. Break off stem ends to remove tough woody part. If asparagus seems sandy, trim off the scales on lower part of stalk. Lay flat in saucepan or set into saucepan so tops lean on side of pan, or set upright in small deep pan. Add boiling water and salt. Cover and bring to boil. Uncover and cook gently until asparagus is tender, 12 to 15 minutes. Drain. Lift out of pan with two forks. Arrange on hot platter and ladle sauce over vegetable. Makes 4 servings.

PLANTING ROSE BUSHES

Rose bushes should be set out now. Trim back the canes to about 8-10 inches. Also long roots may be pruned too. Dig the hole big enough so the roots will fit down into it naturally. Have the soil in the bottom loose and let the main stalk set on top of it. Good top soil should be put in and around all the roots, working it under the crown so there will be no air pocket. Water it so the soil will settle. Then fill in with more soil and heap it up to the canes. This is done so the wind and sun will not dry it out. When leaves begin to come out, pull away the heaped dirt, so the bud joint or knuckle will be 1 or 2 inches above the soil.

Steel

increase "is a matter for your judgment and discretion as to the best interests of your company."

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the Steelworkers union, left Washington for Cleveland where he was due today to speak to the CIO Textile Workers Union—a forum he could use to discuss the steel situation.

The 13 Republican members of the House judiciary committee were represented as solid in their demand that the committee take some action today on the proposals to impeach Truman or at least censure him.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) would make no predictions on the outcome. He said the announced decision of the Republicans to stick together in their demand "shows that they are playing politics with something that should not be a partisan matter."

"I am against precipitate action, particularly while there is under consideration in court a decision on the validity of the President's action," Celler told a reporter. "I would rather wait until the dust settles."

3 Ask Impeachment

Three of the 10 proposals before the committee are impeachment resolutions, the latest having been introduced Monday by Rep. Shafer (R-Mich). The others range from demands that the steel plants be returned to their private owners to professions of congressional disapproval of the President's action. One seeks creation of a special committee to investigate.

The Republican House policy committee, composed of top GOP members headed by minority leader Martin of Massachusetts, Monday backed up the position of the Republican judiciary committee members.

The policy group put off until next Monday further consideration of the various proposals, but Martin said there is "strong sentiment" for impeachment.

However, in the absence of a final court ruling that the President acted illegally or unconstitutionally, many influential Republicans feel it would be unwise to press for impeachment proceedings.

"It would be hard to impeach a man for an action held legal by the court," one high-ranking Republican said privately. "It could make a political martyr out of the President."

APPLICATIONS DOWN

MARYSVILLE — Applications for absentee ballots received by the Union County Board of Elections for the May 6th primary are much fewer than requests received by the board before the presidential primary year of 1948, according to Eugene Rausch, board clerk. More than 50 per cent of this year's applications have been from men in armed services.

Council

cussions of street conditions and the filing of claims.

Several councilmen complained of the condition of the streets.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson told them that it has been too wet to put asphalt in the holes that have developed over the winter. He explained that it was little help to fill the holes with stone because the stone was kicked out by cars in a short period of time.

Council discussed the filing of claims against the city and all members agreed there should be a set routine to follow in filing them.

Wage Meeting Coming Up

Councilman Stafford brought up the question of the wage situation for city employes, other than these elected. Don Quaintance, chairman of the finance committee, said a meeting on the wage hike is coming up in the near future. He said as yet his committee had not been able to reach a conclusion.

"There is no point in granting a wage increase if it can't be paid. But city employes are entitled to an answer, one way or the other," Quaintance said.

Mayor Robinson brought up the condition of the Municipal Court room. He said it was too small and inadequate, and ventilation was poor. He suggested he form a committee with the city solicitor, auditor, and safety-service director to make a report to council on what could be done. Council agreed to the suggestion.

A question on what to do with the alley used by the Kroger Store on S. Prospect St. was referred to the street and alley committee. The store was using the alley for parking.

Discuss Uniforms

What to do with 25 uniforms and other assorted baseball equipment involved in the sale of lights to the city was discussed. Two ideas were advanced. One was to give it to the Little League Baseball organization and the other to divide it between the high schools. The question was referred to the lands and building committee for joint study with the park board.

A claim by A. W. Granger amounting to $4.79 for damages to his car by a city truck was referred to the safety-service director for a written report. Another claim against the city, this one by Earl West of the service department for vacation pay, was referred to the finance committee.

At last night's meeting were William G. Slack, president of the council. Harold Smith, First Ward; James C. Jenkins, Second Ward; Herman L. Rinehart, Third Ward; Louis Conkle, Fourth Ward, Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward; Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward; and Councilmen-at-large George Stafford, Tom Clark and Robert G. Haldeman. The Rev. F. E. Kline, pastor of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

Council is not scheduled to meet again until May 12.

WORST FLOOD HITS UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Thousands of workers battled Utah's worst flood crisis in history today, attempting to control surging streams fed by melting snow. The flood waters knocked out a railroad bridge, ripped out a dam, drove families from their homes, blocked highway traffic and continued to spread over farmlands.

Organization Democrats In Ohio Stranded

No Presidential Candidate in Sight Week From Primary

COLUMBUS (AP)—Democratic organization leaders in Ohio scrambled around today like nervous bridegrooms digging for the ring. It's just seven days away from the May 6 primary election and they haven't a serious presidential candidate they can rally around.

They were all set with the traditional political wedding that served so well in other years. They put up delegate candidates pledged to a favorite son, former U.S. Sen. Robert Bulkley, but ready to hop for President Truman on the second ballot.

Then President Truman backed out. He failed to name a favored successor.

First off, Bulkley leaders and delegate candidates tried to flush Gov. Frank J. Lausche out of the first pew to serve as a stand-in bridegroom. The governor said "No."

Then, Pierce Wood of Dayton, president of the Ohio Young Democrat Clubs, plumped for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Stevenson promptly chopped down Wood along with other Stevenson rooters.

One week from primary, organization big-wigs are talking vaguely about a Lausche draft.

Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee senator who wants to be president, has been riding high through this confusion. Since his cause wasn't viewed with optimism until President Truman withdrew, he was able to qualify only 36 delegate candidates. They would have 32 convention votes.

Bulkley has 61 pledged delegate candidates with 53 votes.

United Appeals Drive Backed By Chest Board

At a meeting of the trustees of the Marion Community Foundation Monday night, the board unanimously approved the proposed United Appeals campaign in the city and county.

Various angles of the proposed community endeavor were discussed at length. E. J. Kinter, president, was authorized to express the views of the board and pledge its whole-hearted support and cooperation of the Foundation at the meeting scheduled for Wednesday night at Harding High School, when the proposed measure will be discussed.

Men and women, representing a cross section of industry, service and fraternal clubs, women's organizations, labor and other organizations have been invited to attend the meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Spring Program Theme For Bethlehem Grange

When Bethlehem Grange met Wednesday night at the Grange Hall, a program was in keeping with the theme, "Be Happy! It's Spring Again." Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Dunlap became members by demit from a Morrow County Grange. The meeting was in charge of Charles McMahan. A discussion was held to protest the adoption of daylight saving time in Marion and the county. Mrs. Paul Tong was reported ill in the hospital and Mrs. Gail Smith, who has been ill, was reported improving in health. Four guests from the Ashley Grange were introduced.

Music and a skit composed the program. A quartet including Mr. and Mrs. Myron Bogart and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lichtenberger sang followed by a solo by Walter Bender, trio, Mrs. Marian McMahan, Mrs. Esther Beringer and Mrs. Lozella Dunlap, and men's quartet, Charles McMahan, Lowell Beringer, Robert Dunlap and Paul Fogle. Mrs Dunlap was the accompanist. Making up a women's quartet were Mrs. Mildred Kaelber, Mrs. Mae Fogle, Mrs. Ruby Bogart and Miss Marie Bender, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Rinehart. Presenting a skit, "Clementine," were Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMahan, Robert Dunlap and Paul Fogle. Mrs. Dunlap played a piano solo, and William (Buddy) Bogart played two accordion numbers.

Boy Unhappy After Theft of Puppy

Five-year-old Curtis H. "Butch" Porter has been an unhappy boy since Sunday when his little black puppy, "Skip," was apparently stolen from his father's car.

Butch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis H. Porter of 215 Summit St. The family had left the puppy in their car, which was parked in the downtown area. When they returned to the car, they found the puppy missing.

The car windows were closed and the doors unlocked, the boy's father said. The loss was reported to the Marion Police Department.

The puppy is described as "mostly beagle," black, with a little brown on its chest.

PRISON REUNION. Mrs. Edna Fletcher, 45-year-old Iowa farm mother, joyously embraces her son, Herbert, 15, at a Texas prison farm near Houston. Herbert had disappeared from their Owana, Ia., farm Oct. 15 and was presumed to have drowned in the Missouri River. He was found at Sugar Land prison farm serving 10 year term for robberies under the name of William H. Adams, 18. Mrs. Fletcher will seek to have her son released. Had he given his age as 15 which his mother says is correct, he could not have been tried in Texas as a criminal.

congressional fire. Bitter criticism of the maneuver was voiced by members of the Texas National Guard, which suffered heavy casualties.

"I was in that area with the Navy at the time of the Rapido crossing," Long said, "and I know that many of the officers with whom I associated did not think too highly of Clark's ability as a field commander.

Has "Reservations"

"What we need in Korea now is a field commander, not a diplomat, and I have some reservations about the Clark appointment."

However, Sen. McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he does not look for any serious Senate attempt to block either Ridgway's or Clark's new assignments. The Army believes no Congress action is needed for the shift.

Neither Texas Senator, Democrats Connally or Lyndon Johnson, would comment on Clark's appointment. Connally had cited the Rapido incident in opposing Clark's nomination by President Truman last year as ambassador to the Vatican. The nomination was withdrawn at Clark's request.

Gen. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, reportedly favored Ridgway as NATO chief. Eisenhower, who steps down about June 1 amid a boom for his nomination as Republican candidate for President, is known to have wanted his chief of staff, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, as his successor.

The idea that Truman was rewarding Ridgway and Clark was explained in military circles this way: Ridgway's handling of the Korean war helped quiet the storm, kicked up by the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far East Chief, which threatened to drive the administration into serious political trouble. Clark's adroit withdrawal as Vatican ambassador-nominee did much to quiet the ruckus over proposed creation of that post.

Quick NATO OK Seen.

Quick approval of Truman's choice was expected in other NATO nations. Except for the Communists, praise for Ridgway was widespread in Europe. Reds in France called Ridgway "the man of germ warfare" and said his appointment was "a brutal defy to European public opinion."

In his European job, Ridgway will be outranked by Britain's Field Marshal Lord Montgomery and by French Gen. Alphonse Juin, ground force commander of NATO armies, unless he gets a fifth star.

Lovett said Monday he had heard of no move underway to promote Ridgway, a four star general. Eisenhower has five stars

Clark goes to Tokyo wearing three of the four hats which Ridgway inherited from MacArthur.

He will be United Nations Commander in Korea, U. S. Commander-in-Chief in the Far East and Commanding General, U. S. Far East.

The post of Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers was eliminated by the Japanese peace treaty which went into effect Monday.

Hobson

in the tragedy was reduced by two when two sailors whose names appeared on it turned up safe. They had missed their ship's last voyage—one man being home on leave, the other in a naval hospital. No casualties were reported aboard the Wasp.

There still was some confusion over the exact number missing because of a duplication of at least two names.

"Full Investigation"

Adm. Lynde McCormick, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, announced in Norfolk that a formal court of inquiry would "make a full investigation of the facts and circumstances surrounding the sinking."

The time and location of the court will be announced shortly after the Wasp arrives in the United States, McCormick said.

A naval court of inquiry is empowered to take sworn testimony, find facts, express opinions and make recommenations, but it cannot impose punishment.

A demand for a congressional probe came from the father of one of the missing men who said his son had told him all the enlisted men aboard the Hobson feared she "would crack up, either in heavy seas or by hitting something in the water."

Ervin S. White Sr., of Lynn, Mass., said his son told him the ship broke down several times while on cruises and was in drydock last March and again in April.

"I intend to have my congressman ask the Navy some questions to find out why it continues to operate ships in such poor shape," he declared. "A thing like this might happen again."

Denies Ship Unfit

The congressman from White's district, Rep. William H. Bates (R-Mass), was not reached for comment.

Rear Adm. W. V. O'Regan issued a statement in Norfolk denying a published report that the Hobson was unfit for sea duty. He said the ship had been inspected carefully April 2 and $24,000 had been spent in bringing the Hobson "up to the high standards demanded by the board of inspection and safety."

The Hobson, a converted destroyer, was escorting the Wasp abut 1,200 miles due east of Boston at the time of the collision. The ships were part of a task force sailing for the Mediterranean.

The Navy said the Hobson crossed the Wasp's bow in the darkness and was struck amidships. She rolled over on her side, her keel gauging the Wasp's bow, and sank.

Marion Man Serving on Wasp

James Todaro, aviation machinist mate first class, USN, of Marion, is among the seamen serving aboard the aircraft carrier Wasp who escaped uninjured after the Wasp collided with the destroye-minesweeper Hobson Saturday night in the middle of the Atlantic.

Todaro's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Todaro of 153 Canby Ct. His wife and son Jack, 3, made their home with his parents. The seaman has been in the service about 15 years.

There was little action along the 155-mile battleline. Two Red probes on the central front were thrown back early Tuesday. One involved 12 Reds, the other three squads. U. N. troops repulsed the second group after a hand grenade fight.

DIKES HOLDING

MUSCATINE, Ia. (AP)—The Mississippi River maintained a steady pressure today against flood-softened dikes on the Illinois and Iowa shores. The levees continued to hold at all points, but all up and down the river the people redoubled their keen watch for any possible breaks.

Place Cagers On Probation

Kentucky Stars Get Suspended Sentences

NEW YORK (AP) — General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit today gave suspended sentences to three former University of Kentucky basketball stars for conspiring to shave points on a basketball game and declared the university and Coach Adolph Rupp "must share the responsibility."

The players, Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable, members of Kentucky's "fabulous five" of 1948 and 1949, were placed on "indefinite probation."

They had pleaded guilty to fixing the point spread in a National Invitation Tournament game with Loyola of Chicago in Madison Square Garden, March 14, 1949. Loyola won 67-56, in a resounding upset.

Women Voters Head Defends League's Aims

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pamphleteers shouting "Un-American" at the League of Women Voters are hurting the organization, the group's president said today.

Mrs. John G. Lee of Farmington, Conn., said that an increasing number of organizations, all generally unknown by the public, have been trying to hang a "pink label" on the league.

She brought the point up in her address to some 950 delegates Monday, convening here in their 20th biennial convention, then enlarged on this in an interview.

"I cannot complete my report to you," said Mrs. Lee, "without mentioning attacks on the league from certain quarters. Of course, some say we're Republican. Others say we're Democratic. That balances out.

"But others go farther, saying we're in the 'parade to socialism,' that we're 'mouthpieces for the administration,' that we're 'internationally minded' — as if that were something to be ashamed of."

These attacks, said Mrs. Lee do not appear in newspapers. Small groups, she said, print them in pamphlets and mail them around the country.

"The trouble," she continued, "is that these 'pink labels' often serve to confuse good citizens—particularly businessmen.

"Some people believe these things."

Mrs. Lee said that the League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization, solely interested in good government.

Plane

power air traffic control center in Berlin.

Air France said there was a total of 11 passengers on the plane, none of them American. The aircraft, a four-engine DC-4, was on its regular run from Frankfurt to Berlin through the air corridor established by four-power agreement

Air France said the attack occurred about 90 miles southwest of Berlin, over the village of Koennern, near Eisleben in the Russian Zone. The Russians maintain a jet fighter base in that area and hold daily training flights along the Elbe valley.

The Russian air safety center schedule posted this morning listed training flights from the jet base, at Koethen, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. The weather was bright and sunny.

Soviet planes have frequently sallied into the 20-mile wide air corridors reserved for Berlin-West Germany flights but have not been regarded lately as a nuisance.

Shortly before the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin, Russian fighters were more daring and a series of "buzzing" incidents was climaxed by a Yak fighter ramming into a British liner, killing 11 occupants.

U.S. airmen said Soviet air patrols in the Russian zone are well-briefed on Allied rights in the three 20-mile air corridors between Berlin and Western Germany.

They said the approach of a MIG fighter to inspect a foreign aircraft is a frequent occurrence, , but a "pass" by two fighters at the same time was "criminally foolish" even if there was no gunfire.

Fortunately, none of the 89 bullets which hit the fuselage struck a vital spot of the airliner, and the plane was able to continue its half-hour flight to Berlin without difficulty.

The passengers dispersed from Templehof soon after the plane landed and before the incident had become known. The crew was interrogated by U. S. air police.

The terminal buzzed with excitement, but there were no nervous cancellations by customers waiting to take off. Most of them indignantly demanded that their scheduled flights, which were temporarily canceled, be allowed to take off.

Politics

within hailing distance of a tie with Taft in delegate strength.

The Associated Press tabulation — based on concessions, pledges, instructions and statements by delegates willing to express a choice—give Taft 265 and Eisenhower 234. It takes 603 to win nomination. Taft headquarters say the Ohioan has more than 300.

Calls Taft "Realist"

Retired Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, campaigning for Taft, said in Boston Monday night the senator is no "isolationist" but a "realist." Wedemeyer said he does not believe the country should have "a military man" as president.

Eisenhower's national campaign manager, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, replied in a speech that the country has had 13 military men as presidents. He said Eisenhower foes "have about run out of arguments."

Politics elsewhere

Republican leaders apparently were at odds over foreign policy. Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, in line for the foreign relations chairmanship should the GOP win Senate control, urged his colleagues to support the administration's foreign policy in Europe. He attacked some Far East policies, generally supported in a magazine article by California Gov. Earl Warren, a candidate for Republican nomination as president. Wiley was criticized by, among others, Sen. Harry Cain of Washington who said Wiley had attacked many of the actions he seemed to be defending in general.

Florida newspaper editors, in an Associated Press survey, saw this division of their state's May 6 Democratic presidential popularity vote: 55.2 per cent to Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, 41.7 per cent to Kefauver, the rest scattered. If so, it would be Kefauver's first preferential defeat in his first joust with fellow-southerner Russell. Results, however, are not binding on Florida's 24 delegates, to be elected May 27.

Russell Speech

In a speech at St. Petersburg, Fla., Russell said that, if president, he would "restore confidence in government" if he had to fire a department head every morning to do it.

At a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Frederick, Md., Kefauver said not to take "croakings" of Republicans seriously. The country always calls on Democrats to lead the people out of the woods, he said.

Taft, at Youngstown, O., said steel workers will be making a mistake if they accept President Truman's seizure of steel mills. At a Republican rally, he recalled Truman once asked power to draft rail and mine workers.

Eisenhower headquarters announced Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, GOP national chairman in 1948-49, has been named regional organization chairman for the Eisenhower-for-President campaign.

GOP town caucuses and primaries throughout Connecticut unofficially recorded widespread support for Eisenhower. Purpose of the voting was to elect delegates to the May 26-27 state convention, which will choose 22 delegates to the national convention.

Indiana GOP State Chairman Cale J. Holder, a Taft supporter, announced in Indianapolis that Indiana Republicans will choose their delegates June 7 instead of July 3. Eisenhower backers said the change was a maneuver by Taft forces who fear "time is running out."

Eisenhower returns from Europe about June 1. Holder declined comment.

Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, received his state's 24 Democratic national convention votes Monday at the party's state convention. There was no opposition.

and price control law would be meaningless.

"Possibly he can give us advice on what affirmative action we could take now, in the face of these actions, to avert inflation instead of feeding it."

Wilson's appearance at a closed-door meeting of the committee took the play on Capitol Hill, where congressional wrath over seizure of the steel industry has set off a move to impeach President Truman and sparked a variety of investigations.

TRUMANS ATTEND OPERA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Harry S. Truman took her husband to the opera Monday night. He seemed to like it fine. The Trumans—the President's wife is the boxholder of the family—joined a first night audience of 3,400 at the Metropolitan Opera Company's glittering performance of "Aida," marking the return of "the Met" to Washington after a 31-year absence.

Conviction Of "Tokyo Rose" Is Upheld

Supreme Court Rules In Treason Case Of Woman Commentator

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday denied a hearing to "Tokyo Rose," the California-born Japanese convicted of treason for broadcasting propaganda over the wartime Tokyo radio.

Under her real name of Mrs. Iva Ikuka Toguri D'Aquino, she was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. She is serving the term in the federal reformatory for women at Alderson, W. Va.

The refusal to grant a hearing lets her conviction stand unchanged. Justice Clark took no part in the case.

"Tokyo Rose" was convicted in federal court in San Francisco on Sept. 29, 1949. The charge was that after the 1944 battle of Leyte she broadcast:

"Now you fellows (Americans) have lost all your ships. You really are orphans of the Pacific. Now, how do you think you will ever get home?"

Mrs. D'Aquino was born in Los Angeles July 4, 1916, of Japanese parents. At the time of her trial her father, Jun Toguri, was a Chicago grocer. She is the wife of Felipe Kairus D'Aquino, a Portugese citizen of Japanese descent.

Mrs. D'Aquino was graduated from the University of California in 1940 and went to Japan in 1941 to visit relatives. In 1943 she got a job with Radio Tokyo, a Japanese government propaganda organ.

Other Decisions

In other actions at a busy session today, the high court:

1. Decided 7-1 that the federal government had failed to prove its charges of anti-trust law violation by a non-profit medical and hospital insurance program sponsored by the Oregon Medical Society.

2. Upheld 5-4 an Illinois law banning "race hatred" literature but said "our finding that the law is not constitutionally objectionable carries no implication of approval of the wisdom of the legislation or of its efficacy."

3. Upheld 8-1 the conviction of Mrs. Yvette J. Madsen for the 1949 murder of her officer husband in Germany. The Brooklyn-born brunette is serving a 15-year sentence in the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W. Va. Her husband, Air Force Lieut. Andrew E. Madsen, was shot after a party at which Mrs. Madsen was teased about her Brooklyn accent.

Marion Girl Studying At Mexico College

A Marion girl, Miss Gloria Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Connor of 318 S. State St., is presently attending Mexico City College where she is studying for two quarters.

Miss Connor, a graduate of Harding High School, was attending Ohio State University in Columbus prior to going to Mexico and plans to return to Ohio State to complete her studies. A junior, she is majoring in education. She plans to return to Ohio State around June 10.

The first of this year, a number of Ohio State University students went to Mexico City College to study, many for just one quarter and several for two quarters. Those majoring in education find studying at the Mexican college adds to the effectiveness of the educational activities they plan to direct.

Mexico City College, founded 11 years ago, is the only institution of higher learning in Latin America which uses the U.S. university's credit system and gives bachelor's and master's degrees.

Marion Man Sees Atom Test

T/Sgt. Joseph C. Oliver, 35, of Marion was one of the GIs in the trenches when the largest Atomic bomb ever to be detonated in the United States exploded last Tuesday over Yucca flats in Utah.

He was interviewed recently by Reed M. Weingartner of Washington Court House, O., regional director of the Civil Defense Administration in Ohio, news reports from Columbus revealed. Weingartner was an eye witness to the explosion.

T/Sgt. Oliver said the shock was not as severe as he expected. He said the most the troops suffered was dust and dirt blown up in their faces.

RAID SORORITY HOUSES

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—About 500 Purdue University students raided sorority houses for souvenir undergarments last night and brought out 30 police. Two co-eds suffered slight cuts when a window was broken at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house. Police said there was some minor damage at five sorority houses and at Wood Hall, all in an area west of the campus. The rampage was quelled in about two and a half hours.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

HEARD ON THE BEAT: Federal agents probing into a phony labor paper racket which has terrorized and shaken some $100,000,000 out of American merchants in the past decade, have stumbled on a national scandal—but they may never tell it to the people. It reaches into high labor and political circles.

Apparently the operator of one multi-million dollar "labor paper" operation which literally has threatened businessmen across the nation with violence, disruption and strikes, sold stock in his corporation to several prominent labor men—all of whom are decent men. They thought they were buying into a printing venture, replete with big presses, railroad sidings and loft buildings. Most of these men are politically active and have associates in the highest places.

Now, when the government makes its discoveries known to the high AFL council, which has been fighting these fake labor sheets, there will be a showdown which will split some unions wide open—but the scandal will never reach the public.

These union chiefs who invest in outside businesses are most sensitive to criticism. It's certainly their right to invest. But when their money builds an operation which has virtually held up businessmen—then they endanger the public relations of all labor and should shut up when they're criticized.

HOWEVER SOME employers aren't waiting for the government to clean up this racket. Down in San Antonio, Tex., employers are beating the terrorists with a little gimmick invented by the Better Business Bureau. The labor paper racket is worked by telephone, mostly out of New York. A call to San Antonio costs about $45 an hour.

So when the blackmailer phones in long distance, such as they did recently to the Brownie Industrial Electric Co. there, the executives simply let the solicitor solicit—for an hour. Then the businessman tells him to write a letter. This could cost the racket about $400 a day in phone calls. And the phony labor papers will never write—for that violates the postal laws and gets the tough postal inspectors swarming down on them.

Try it the next time they pressure you for an ad.

OVER THIS PAST week end, Margaret Truman told some intimates that her father will not yield to the new draft drive. . . . Special Communist cells are being briefed on techniques of smearing Gen. Eisenhower and Sen. Taft. When the line is set, there will be national Communist demonstrations, featuring Paul Robeson and what's left of their movie and theatrical talent, to launch the drive against these two GOP contenders.

This is to warn District Republican leaders that within the past 60 days the Communist Party units in Pittsburgh and Chicago—and presumably in other big cities—have completed their plans for infiltration of the GOP. Orders came to the Party's industrial cells in these two sectors to get into district clubs and, after a while, volunteer for ward work and door bell ringing. So along about now, the newcomers should be ready—and the Republican district captains should keep their political eyes peeled. The Communist machine is more slickly oiled than you think . . .

The sun-tanned John L. Lewis is back in Washington but isn't quite ready to create a crisis—mostly because parts of the coal industry are beginning to become depression pockets like textile towns. Sales are off. Prices have fallen as much as 50 cents a ton. Mines are being shut. And things would be worse if our coal people didn't undersell the Polish coal trusts in Europe as far off as Sweden. Now Lewis may not make new wage demands until next September.

There may be a way out in the deadlock over the union shop in the steel industry. Phil Murray and Big Steel may use either the General Motors formula which provides that all new employes must join the union but old workers needn't. Or the Rand Formula, which, as explained by James Bambrick, National Industrial Conference Board expert, is startlingly new and may affect millions.

Under this gimmick, a new phrase comes into being, the "agency shop." It gives an employe the right to refuse to join the union—but if he doesn't join, he must pay the union a sum equal to the union dues as a fee for being his collective bargaining agency.

SUNK IN ATLANTIC COLLISION. The U.S.S. Hobson (above), a destroyer-minesweeper, was sunk in a collision with the Aircraft Carrier Wasp in mid-Atlantic maneuvers Saturday night with a loss of 174 lives. The ships collided about 1,200 miles east of Boston, Mass. The Hobson, much-honored veteran of World War II, saw service in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. The bow of the Wasp was damaged, but there were no casualties aboard the carrier.

General Business Lull Over? Reports Disagree

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A number of professional pulse - takers report today on the health of business. Most find him showing no signs of recovering yet from his long lull. But a few think they detect a quickening here and there.

Gloomy is the word the National Association of Purchasing Agents uses in assessing the general business outlook. Its April survey, out today, says twice as many companies reported production declines as reported gains. Forward buying is very cautious, the association adds. Order backlogs have dropped sharply. Inventory liquidation is going on in some fields.

The National Association of Credit men finds payments slow. It blames taxes. Two-thirds of retailers' February bills weren't paid, as the businessmen saved for March tax payments and thereby lost the discount they would have had if they'd paid their bills during the grace period.

Workers' paychecks, in consumer goods hard goods industries, were a little lighter by mid-March, the Bureau of Labor Statistics report. A drop in the number of hours of work a week accounted for the loss. The bureau blames "continued slackening in the output of consumer goods and building materials and a slowing down in the expansion of defense-related activities."

IN THE FURNITURE industry, Seidman & Seidman reports the downtrend in bookings and production continues. The industry's accounting firm says orders booked during the first quarter were down 19 per cent from a year ago, and shipments were down 16 per cent. But a year ago the industry was in the midst of a war-scare boom. So the accountants say, "after allowance for this factor, sales figures may be considered quite satisfactory."

The American Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association reports that factory sales of household washers were a third lower this March than the year before. Sales of ironers were off by 60 per cent.

Pulse-takers who think the worst is over and feel signs of revival are with us today too.

Raw wool business is picking up some in the Southwest and at Boston, the U. S. production and Marketing Administration says. Prices went up a little in the world's principal trade centers. A belated report on February business by the Census Bureau shows increased activity. Six per cent more apparel wool was consumed a week than in January. Carpet wool use gained 10 per cent.

DEALERS IN HIDES and leather also report a slight recovery in prices in the last week. With several large shoe companies cutting prices, shoe buying is expected to pick up and tanners say their business should gain after the long slump.

Lumber production, shipments and orders are lower than at this time last year. But the national lumber trade barometer says that for the year to date shipments are running six per cent above production, and orders are seven per cent above output. And lumber men hope this means a pickup.

Farm machinery makers are hopeful, too. Sales should increase soon, they think, and some predict sales will top last year's record.

Y-Sponsored Youth in Govt. Program Ends

Ohio's first annual Youth in Government program sponsored by the YMCA came to a close Sunday with the Model Legislature passing 11 bills out of 75 proposed. Four Marion students took part in the program.

Among the bills passed were compulsory inspection every year for autos and trucks, stiffer penalty for driving while intoxicated, standardization of all traffic signals, an amendment to increase penalty for prisoners escaping from county jails, additional judges in municipal courts, fluorination of public water supply, and a retest for drivers every six years.

A bill allowing 18-year-olds to vote was killed in committee. Governor Lewis vetoed three bills.

Friday night all delegates and advisors were guests of Ohio State University for a banquet in which Governor Frank Lausche gave the address.

Approximately 350 youths from all parts of Ohio took part in the program as senators, representatives, alternates, and officers. Twenty-five Ohio senators and representatives volunteered their services to make the program a success.

Marion boys attending were Joe Thomas, John Ashworth, John White and Richard Snyder.

However, two persons were arrested on charges of traffic violations. He was arrested on McWilliams Ct. at 8:08 p.m. Monday. His car was held for his appearance in Municipal Court Tuesday.

Frederick S. Lehner, 37, of the Milner Hotel was arrested on a charge of reckless driving on Mound St. Monday at 7:07 p.m. He posted $35 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court Tuesday.

Sohio Sees Earnings Drop

CLEVELAND (AP)—The board chairman of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio reported Monday that it appears "probable" that the company's net earnings for 1952 will decline somewhat from the high level of 1951.

Chairman A. A. Stambaugh told Sohio's annual stockholders' meeting that in recent years efficiency of new installations and greatly increased sales have enabled the company to offset sharp boosts in business costs.

"From this point on," he added, "it will be increasingly difficult, and perhaps not possible, to fully offset these increases in all costs . . ."

C. T. Foster, Sohio president, said he expects an increase of four to five per cent over last year in demand for the company's products.

He said Sohio's capital expenditures for new facilities will continue at high level in 1952 but will be somewhat below the record $38 million spent last year.

Critical Period Arrives In Major Leagues

Cutting Deadline Puts Pressure on Rookies

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The critical period is at hand today for major league rookies as eastern and western teams clash for the first time in the infant 1952 season.

Within the next fortnight the strategists must decide on the players they will retain for the long haul.

The ax will fall from now until May 15, the final day for trimming the rosters to the required 25 players.

The battle for survival among the greenhorns, and the early season upstarts — the St. Louis Browns, Boston Red Sox, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs—will command the fans' attention during the next 10 days.

American League teams invade the east, hoping that the rain, which has kept the clubs on the Atlantic seaboard in drydock for virtually a week, will subside. Meanwhile, the National League's eastern teams gladly left their water-logged parks for the west.

Browns Meet Yanks

Manager Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns, boasting a 7-3 record open in Yankee Stadium today. Lefty Bob Cain (2-0) has been selected to pitch against the Yanks' Vic Raschi (2-0).

Boston's frisky Red Sox entertain the surgent Detroit Tigers; Cleveland's highly-regarded Indians invade Philadelphia, and the Chicago White Sox, last year's spring sensations, take on the Senators in Washington.

Boston (9-2) will be seeking to strengthen its hold on first place, while the Brownies will be out to prove that their sensational early season spurt was no flash-in-the-pan.

In the National League, Brooklyn's pace-setting Dodgers clash with the Cards in a night game at St. Louis while New York is at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Chicago and Boston at Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers, idle for a week, won 30 games and lost only 14 in the west last year. Brooklyn found the Cards easy picking, winning 18 out of 22 games for the season.

Simmons May Start

Curt Simmons, returned from Army service, is expected to make his first start since 1950 for the Phils in the Cub series. The fledgling Pirates, moored in last place, will attempt to break a nine game losing streak against the Braves.

In the only game played Monday, the Cubs tied Cincinnati for second place by shading the Cards, 4-3, under the lights at St. Louis. Hank Sauer drove in all of Chicago's runs, two on a first-inning homer. Harry Brecheen, former Cub tormentor, was the loser.

The only scheduled game in the American League, between New York and Washington, was rained out.

ROGER HORNSBY, back as the manager of the St. Louis Browns after a lapse of 15 years, is in the coaching box at third base to signal instructions (above) as he pilots the Browns to their amazing early-season success in the American League pennant race.

Boston Fans Plan Rousing Sendoff For Ted Williams

BOSTON (AP) — Temperamental Ted Williams and Boston's Red Sox rooters have scrapped often in the past, but Wednesday is Ted's Day and the fans plan a rousing and sentimental sendoff for the Marine Corps-bound slugger.

The lanky home-run belter—who starts a duty tour of at least 17 months as a flying Marine captain Friday in Willow Grove, Pa. —didn't want any big observance for his farewell but the movement just mushroomed.

He hasn't seen much 1952 action, having suffered a pulled tendon in his left leg while sliding in the season's opener in Washington. But he's seen service as a pinch-hitter and has been accorded a great reception by the fans.

Williams probably will be playing his final game for the Red Sox. He'll be 34 next Oct. 30 and will miss both the 1952 and 1953 seasons, making him an old man by baseball standards in 1954. He's said a comeback then might be too tough to attempt.

Derby Horses Set For Test

$10,000 at Stake In Today's Mile Run

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The giant and the midget of the 78th Kentucky Derby, both financially and physically, meet for the first time today in the mile of the $10,000 added Derby Trial at Churchill Downs.

Hill Gail, pride of Mrs. Warren Wright's fabulous Calumet Farm, is the giant. He is not only the largest Derby hopeful at well over 16 hands, but is the 8 to 5 favorite to measure 11 other three year olds today and establish himself as the public's choice in Saturday's $100,000 mile and one-quarter Derby.

Gift Silver, mite of a horse owned by Odie Newell, an Ottumwa, Iowa, railroad engineer, is the midget.

Gift Silver never has raced.

In fact it is a question whether he'll be among those parading to the post at 4:30 p.m. eastern standard time, Saturday, while the band plays "My Old Kentucky Home." It all depends on today's race.

Not all of the interest in the Derby centers in Hill Gail and Gift Silver.

There is, for instance, Alfred Gwynee Vanderbilt's Cousin; Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's Arroz; Bayard Sharp's Hannibal, and Sub Fleet from Charles T. Fisher's Dixiana Farm.

Harding Whipped By Tygers For Second Loss, Open Tourney Friday

The Harding baseballers went down to their second straight defeat of the season, taking a 4-0 shutout at Mansfield Monday.

The game was well-played, each team committing only one error. Mansfield broke a scoreless tie in the bottom of the fifth, exploding with four runs. A long fly scored the first Tyger run after runners had reached third and second on a hit batsman, single, and wild pitch. With two down the Tygers tallied three more on a walk, triple, and error.

Mansfield hurler Burns allowed only three singles, one to Niles in the third, and Thomas in the first and sixth. Emmons went the route for Harding, although touched for seven hits, including a double and two triples. He gave up five walks and fanned three. Burns issued three walks and struck out 7.

Thursday, Mansfield will come to Lincoln Park for a return encounter with Harding. The game will get under way at 4 p.m. Friday the Prexies taste their first tournament play when the winner of the Columbus West-Bexley game will meet the Prexies at Lincoln Park.

DERBY HOPEFUL, Hill Gail (above), Kentucky Derby hopeful of Mrs. Warren Wright's Calumet Farm stable, sniffs the air at Kentucky's Keenland track. Trainer Ben Jones, who is preparing Hill Gail for the Derby, has saddled five winners of the classic and Calumet Farm has bagged four Derbies in nine attempts. With this winning combination in his corner, Hill Gail is expected to present a real threat to other Derby hopefuls.

Colonels Take Association Lead

By The Associated Press

The red-hot Louisville Colonels, registering the first shutout of the American Association season behind the pitching of Rookie Al Curtis, blanked Indianapolis 3-0 Monday night and moved into the league lead.

It was Louisville's ninth win against three losses and gave the Colonels a ½-game lead over the Milwaukee Brewers who were waylaid by Kansas City, 9-6.

A three-run uprising in the eighth and tight relief hurling by Dave Jolly gave Kansas City the decision.

Columbus ended Toledo's four-game victory streak 6-3 as Pat Patrick spaced seven hits and struck out nine. The Red Birds broke a 3-3 deadlock in the seventh with three runs on a cluster of four hits.

A triple in the last of the eighth by Ed Amoros, who scored on Danny Ozark's long fly, gave St. Paul a 5-4 win over Minneapolis.

Galion Baseballers Sweep Doubleheader

GALION — The Galion High School Tigers swept a twinbill from Upper Arlington High School Saturday at Columbus, winning the opener, 3-2, and taking the nightcap, 12-2.

Randall Vance and Bill Enders hurled the two games for the locals. In the 14 innings, the losers managed to pick up only six hits.

The Tigers travel to Mansfield Wednesday for a game set at Gorman-Rupp Field against the Mansfield Tygers.

ALL-STARS PRACTICE

Smitty's All-Stars softball team will hold a practice session at Garfield Park tonight at 6 p.m. The team will meet Bird-McGinnis in a practice game Thursday at 6 p.m. on the same field.

Redlegs Face First Test

Open Long Home Stay With Eastern Clubs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ewell Blackwell, who hasn't contributed a bit of pitching help to the Cincinnati Reds' surprising early season start, will get another chance tonight to break into the "games won" column.

But the lean righthander will have his work cut out for him. He's due to oppose Sal Maglie as the Reds open their first series with eastern teams against the league champion New York Giants.

Blackwell has lost both of his previous two starts.

Tonight's game will be the first of nine tilts against eastern teams which are expected to give a decided clue as to whether the Redlegs are as good as they have looked thus far.

One Cincinnati paper today even carried a headline "Reds' major league season opens tonight."

Currently the Rhinelanders are tied with the Chicago Cubs for second place in the National League with eight victories and three losses.

Grid Browns Swap Grigg, 2 Rookies For Linebacker

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns today traded huge Chubby Grigg and two rookie tackles to the Green Bay Packers for Walt Michaels, a linebacker they have owned before.

They want Michaels as a replacement for Tony Adamle, their captain who plans to give up pro football and study medicine.

Grigg, a fast and agile tackle despite his weight, injured his knee early last season while the Browns were beating the college All-Stars and saw little action the rest of the season.

He reports his leg in good shape now. But apparently the Browns expect the 26-year-old defensive specialist will have trouble carrying his 290 pounds. He is easily the biggest man in the game.

The two rookies are Dick Logan of Ohio State and Elmer Costa of North Carolina State. Costa, the Browns' sixth draft choice, was one named the Associated Press "lineman of the week." Logan was one of the bulwarks of the 1950 Ohio State line.

Michaels came to the Browns from Washington and Lee last season, but was traded to the Packers when the Cleveland squad had to be cut to league limits.

Spivey Faces Arrest After Indictment

Accuse Kentucky Star Of Perjury; Four Toledo Cagers Listed

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Kentucky famed for its championship basketball team, felt the full brunt of game-fixing reverberations rocking the college sport

One of the university's All-America stars, seven-foot Bill Spivey, faced arrest on a first degree perjury charge despite his repeated protests of innocence Conviction carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment or $5 000 fine or both

Three other Blue Grass greats—Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable — awaited sentencing in General Sessions Court after pleading guilty earlier to charges of conspiring with gamblers to fix a National Invitation Tournament game in 1949

Judge Saul S Streit was scheduled to sentence the latter three at 9 a m (EST)

Groza and Beard, like Spivey, were All-America selections and they were spearheads of Kentucky's 'Fabulous Five' team which represented the United States in the 1948 Olympics at London

On a conspiracy charge, they may be sentenced to serve up to three years in the New York City Penitentiary

Issues Warrant

Spivey was indicted for perjury by the New York grand jury Monday and District Attorney Frank S Hogan issued a warrant for his arrest

The indictment charges Spivey with falsely denying he discussed deals with alleged fixers and accepted $1 000 in the winter of 1950-51 to arrange the point spread of games The district attorney said Spivey's testimony in a voluntary appearance here in February was not borne out by that of the others questioned

Spivey who steadfastly has maintained he has had no part in the mushrooming scandal learned of the indictment shortly before leaving for an exhibition game at Williamstown Ky, Monday night "That is not true," he said of the charges

Asked whether he would waive extradition to New York the towering center said "I'll have to talk to my lawyer"

Several hours before the Hogan announcement of perjury charges, Spivey, two other former Kentucky performers and four former Toledo University players were mentioned in indictments filed against four alleged fixers

U of T Ace Involved

The Kentuckians were Walter Hirsch and Jim Line, the latter a part-time assistant to Coach Adolph Rupp in 1950-51 The four Toledo players were William Walker Carlo Muzzi, Robert McDonald and Jack Feeman, accused of being involved in three fixed games between September 1950 to January 1951

The allegations were contained in new indictments filed against Joseph Brunntende and Eli (Kaye) Klukofski of New York and Jack West and Jack Rubinstein of Brooklyn

The win moves Cardington into the title game Wednesday at 8 p m against Iberia The Iberia crew entered the finals by virtue of a 5-3 win over Johnsville The Presidents won the game with a four-run rally in the fifth frame They were outhit 8-4 by Johnsville

Charles Opens Training For Title Fight

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Ezzard Charles, who is not the heavyweight champion any more begins training on Thursday for a fight with Jersey Joe Walcott at Philadelphia on June 6

It seems that Walcott now holds the title, having knocked out Charles in a battle at Pittsburgh in July of last year This will come as a surprise to many fans who were away on vacation at the time and who still recognize Ezzard as the champ

They say Walcott has made less out of the crown than any champion of the modern era possibly barring Primo Carnera, who was not permitted by his managers to open a checking account The old pappy fighter has however made scores of appearances at charitable institutions and before church groups and has in general worn his laurels well, if anonymously

DESPITE ANYTHING you might have read to the contrary the Derby Trial at Churchill Downs today does nothing except confuse the issue If you are looking for the winner of the big race on Saturday pay the Trial no mind whatever

Why they call it the Trial is one of those sweet mysteries It is run over a distance of one mile which is a long quarter less than the Derby route The horse which flies under the wire first in the Trial will, more than likely, develop the blind staggers when they ask him to put in a little overtime four days later The nag to watch is the one which comes in fifth today looking innocent

THE BEST STORY in Frank Graham's new book, "The New York Giants" we think, tells of the first time young Willie Mays of the Giants came to bat in Brooklyn last year Roy Campanella the Dodgers' great Negro catcher asked Willie what he thought of Preacher Roe who was curving 'em for the Brooks

"He's a mighty good pitcher Mr Campanella" Willie said

"You're lucky today," Roy said "Wait till you get Don Newcombe tomorrow He hates colored rookies He'll blow you down"

Graham, probably for lack of space neglected to relate how the mischievous Campanella kept tossing dirt into Willie's shoes just as the ball was delivered Willie complained to his manager Leo Durocher, and next time he came up told the bulky backstop

"Mr Durocher says if you do that again for me to throw a handful of dirt in your face Mr Campanella"

"That's fine Willie" Roy said "Any time you feel like dying you just do that" Willie, it is recalled, went hitless his first 21 times at bat in the big show

WILBUR SHAW, head of the Indianapolis Speedway was in town recently whooping it up for his 500-mile classic on Memorial Day He was asked why he didn't install a couple of hundred mutuel windows and really make a killing

"We thought of it" Shaw grinned "but then we got to thinking about the 1947 race If something like that ever happened again they'd tear down our grandstand"

He's right The '47 race was the one in which young Bill Holland supposedly having misread some instruction from his pit pulled up toward the end and lost an almost certain victory to his teammate Mauri Rose

Feller Opposes A's

Indians Begin First Eastern Swing Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Can the Cleveland Indians avoid burying their pennant hopes in the East, particularly in the New York Yankees' stadium where they lost 10 of 11 last year.

The answer begins to come tonight when Bob Feller goes to the mound for the Tribe against the Philadelphia Athletics and their Alex Kellner, a southpaw who whipped Cleveland four times last season.

Manager Al Lopez of the Indians admits his club has "got to do something to get some runs" The team's batting average is a puny .237—well under the .270 fixed before the season as the minimum needed for Cleveland to bring home the bacon.

The Tribe has been shut out in three of their last four games after getting away from the starting gate with seven straight victories. In two of these three Cleveland got only one hit

48 Strikeouts

For their last six games, the Indians had 48 strikeouts—an average of eight a game. And in the entire 12 games so far, Catcher Jim Hegan leads with 12 whiffs, and outfielders Jim Fridley and Harry Simpson have nine each.

First baseman Luke Easter, the "big guy" of the Tribe attack, is hitting a puny .174 and may be dropped a notch from the cleanup spot in the batting order tonight. Lopez is considering moving Third Baseman Al Rosen, who's thumping at a .308 clip, from fifth to fourth.

If Centerfielder Larry Doby's pulled thigh muscle is sufficiently recovered, he may be back in the lineup tonight after an eight-day absence. Lopez thinks "chances are pretty good" Doby will play, but the decision won't be made until game time.

WHAT??! YOU MEAN YOU ARE SERIOUSLY CONSIDERING ADOPTING THIS NAMELESS, HOMELESS LITTLE NOBODY??
WHY NOT? SHE IS—
YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT OR WHO SHE IS—HER PARENTS MAY BE, AND VERY LIKELY ARE, SOME KIND OF CRIMINALS
NONSENSE
YOU HAVEN'T THE RIGHT TO HUMILIATE ME THIS WAY—IF YOU ADOPT THAT LITTLE BRAT, HER NAME WILL BE ANNIE MARTAN—I'LL BE HER AUNT—I'LL BE ASHAMED—SNEERED AT—
DON'T WORRY—YOU WILL NOT BE HER AUNT, AND I AM CERTAIN THAT SWEET LITTLE CHILD WILL NEVER CAUSE ANYONE TO BE ASHAMED—I WILL BE PROUD TO CALL HER MY DAUGHTER—
